

AUTORS LIST

Alexander KRYLOV - Dr. of Science (History)

Head of Center for post-Soviet studies of the Primakov Institute of World Economy and International Relations, President of the Scholarly Society of Caucasus Studies.

Armen Manvelyan, PhD,

Senior Researcher of the Department of International Relations at the Institute of Oriental Studies, NAS RA. He engaged in the study of energy geopolitics and energy security as well as the contemporary international relations issues. Visiting lecturer of the Department of international relations at Yerevan State University.

Mushegh Ghahriyan, PhD,

Research Fellow at the Department of International Relations at the Institute of Oriental Studies, NAS RA. Main fields of his research include the Kurdish issue in Iraq and in other Middle East countries.

Aram Abajyan, PhD,

Research Fellow at the Department of International Relations at the Institute of Oriental Studies, NAS RA. Main fields of his research include China-Middle East relations, international developments and perspectives.

Subramanian Krishnan Mani, PhD,

Assistant Professor in Seedling School of Law and Governance, Jaipur National University. His areas of specialization include: Modern Indian History, History of the United States and U.S. Foreign Policy, Strategic Studies, International Relations, History of Europe and History of China and Japan.

Inessa Arzumanyan

MA in Political Science and International Affairs. Main fields of her research include Georgia's Foreign Policy, South Caucasus and Middle East.

Narek Mkrtchyan

Visiting lecturer at College of Humanities and Social Sciences (CHSS), American University of Armenia. Currently he is a Ph.D. Candidate at Yerevan State University. His research interests are history post-Soviet transformations, nation/state building theories and practices in Central Asia, the Kazakh history and literature, the history of Kazak.