

The Armenian Massacres.

Horrible Details.

LONDON, May 19.

The London newspapers to-day publish details of the massacre of Armenians at Orfah, a town in the north of the province of Aleppo, reported to have been perpetrated some time ago.

The details disclose the fact that a fearful holocaust was executed locally under the orders of superior Turkish officials.

Eight thousand inhabitants of the town and district of Orfah were massacred.

Three thousand of the victims took refuge in the Cathedral. The building was set on fire by the Turkish soldiers, and the inmates, who were prevented from escaping, were burnt to death.
